

Best Management Practices for New High Tunnel Growers

Thursday
December 4, 2014
10:00-3:00

At Cornell Cooperative
Extension, Dutchess County
2715 Route 44, Suite 1
Millbrook, NY 12545

Cornell University
Cooperative Extension
Eastern New York Commercial Horticulture

Eastern New York Commercial Horticulture Program
61 State Street Troy, NY 12180

High Tunnel School: Best Management Practices for High Tunnel Growers

Please return this form with payment by November 30, 2014 (to guarantee lunch) to: ENYCCHP
61 State Street, Troy NY 12180 Make checks payable to ENYCCHP

Name(s) of all attendees: _____

Address: _____

City: _____ State: _____ Zip: _____

Email: _____

Phone: _____

How many will be attending? _____ Amount Enclosed ($30/person) _____
(Sorry no refunds, you may send someone in your place.)

High Tunnel School: Best Management Practices for New High Tunnel Growers

This program is targeted for commercial growers new to high tunnels. NRCS cooperating farms are particularly encouraged to attend. All who are interested in improving their crop yield, quality, and profitability by using high tunnels are welcome.

Registration is due by November 30, 2014

Cost $30/person includes lunch, refreshments and resource materials
To register online with a credit card visit <http://enych.cce.cornell.edu/>

Or call Marcie Vohnoutka at 518-272-4210

Or mail the registration on the other side of this brochure.

Speakers:

- Experienced growers
- Judson Reid, Specialist with Cornell Vegetable Program
- Amy Ivy, Specialist with Eastern New York Horticulture Program
- Other regional specialists

No recertification credits. This program is sponsored by Cornell Cooperative Extension in collaboration with the Cornell Vegetable Program and the Eastern New York Commercial Horticulture Program and is funded in part by a Specialty Crops Research Initiative block grant through the NYS Dept. of Ag & Markets.

Cornell University
Cooperative Extension

Cornell University Cooperative Extension provides equal program and employment opportunities. Please contact the Cornell Cooperative Extension office if you have any special needs. CCE does not endorse or recommend any specific product or service. This program is solely intended to educate consumers about their choices.