Vert Nature <http://vegpro.com/en/our-farms/>

Vert Nature grows over 2000 acres in its Quebec location. It not only cultivates baby lettuces, spinach and brassicas, but also Iceberg and Romaine lettuce, carrots and onions. It has become a real hub for research and development and more than 300 new varieties are tested each year.

Univerco <http://www.univerco.com/en/home/>

Univerco Conception Fabrication manufactures custom vegetable production equipment.

Les Serres Lefort

<http://culturevog.com/en/serres-lefort/>

With over 300 greenhouses and plans to increase to 500, Les Serres Lefort grows nearly 70% of Quebec transplants for outdoors farmers.

Also: the two farmers who helped coordinate this trip will join us on the bus once in Canada to answer questions and explain more about what we are seeing: Denys van Winden and David Gillespie.
