

High Tunnel Field Meeting

Date: Wednesday July 12

Time: 5:00pm-7:00pm

Location: Slack Hollow Farm
177 Gilchrist Road
Argyle, NY

Cost: $15/ person
$25/ farm
(2 or more people)

Registration online at:

<https://www.nofany.org/events-news/events/2017-on-farm-field-days>

Or call NOFA at (585) 271-1979

Join us for a discussion of ongoing high tunnel fertility management for summer tomato crops, high tunnel soil health, as well as other summer high tunnel crop options including cucumbers and basil.

In addition there will be an update on leek moth in allium crops, a discussion of downy mildew in basil, and a demonstration of an in-row flame weeder.

Speakers include:

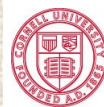

Judson Reid, CVP

Andy Fellenz, NOFA-NY

Amy Ivy, ENYCHP

Light refreshments will be provided.

Pre-registration is encouraged.

Cornell University
Cooperative Extension
Eastern New York Commercial Horticulture

NOFA-NY
NORTHEAST ORGANIC FARMING
ASSOCIATION OF NEW YORK

NY farm viability
INSTITUTE

This event is a collaboration of CCE ENYCHP and NOFA-NY and part of a project funded by the Farm Viability Institute, "Best Management Practices for Long Term Profitable High Tunnel Soil Fertility and Health"